Museum Manners

Help us protect our glass art and galleries for all to enjoy by honoring our museum manners:

- Do not touch artwork, cases or pedestals.
- Keep a safe distance between you and each work of art.
- Use only pencils.
- No leaning on walls or cases, either to write or for physical support.
- No food or open beverages are allowed in the galleries, classroom or shop.
- Large bags and backpacks need to be left with Visitor Services.
- Running, pushing, and roughhousing are not allowed in the museum.
- No flash photography please. Be aware of “no photography” symbols adjacent to a work of art indicates that photography is prohibited for that work.

Bergstrom-Mahler Museum of Glass

Established in 1959, the Museum is located on the shores of Lake Winnebago and has operated exclusively as a glass art museum since 2012. With over 5,000 objects, the Museum’s glass collection is known for containing the largest representative collection of antique to contemporary glass paperweights, the Mahler collection of Germanic vessels, Victorian Era decorative glass, and a significant collection of contemporary glass sculpture. Ranked in the top glass museums in the country, and is nationally accredited by the American Alliance of Museums.

Free Parking

There’s a parking lot in front of the Museum with accessible spaces, as well as on-street parking.

Admission Free, Always

The Museum is free and open to the public. Donations and memberships are encouraged.
